CALAIS/DOVER : A MINI-CRUISE TO THE UK

The Port Boulogne Calais is the leading port in France for passenger traffic.

Each year it welcomes more than 10 million passengers who choose to transit through the port closest to the UK. Calais is a fast, flexible port, with services available 24/7, all year round. The port is located less than three hours from Paris, London and Brussels, and is connected to several motorways (A16, A26 and A25 in France, M20 and M2 in the UK) and railways criss-crossing Europe.

Two ferry companies offer up to fifty departures each day to Dover aboard spacious and comfortable ferries. The mini cruise takes about 75 minutes.

CRUISES

The Port Boulogne Calais welcomes cruise ships en route to the North Sea and the Baltic Sea.

In Calais, the vessels call at the deep-water quay of the Ravisse Basin.

At Boulogne-sur-Mer, ships calling at the port berth at the Quai de l'Europe (in deep water).

- The high level of safety is ensured by checkpoints in both ports.
- Reception facilities are provided for cruise passengers.
